Multimodal Study

Move Chatham

Multimodal transportation refers to the various ways people and goods move throughout a region. This study will encompass all modes of travel, including automotive, bicycle, pedestrian, trail networks, and transit.

Chatham County is inviting public input to better understand current transportation resources and gather your thoughts on future needs.

Insights from this effort will help shape a planning initiative to develop long-term vision for multi-modal travel throughout Chatham County.

This comprehensive study covers the entire county and its connections to the neighboring areas.

Estudio Multimodal

El transporte multimodal se refiere a las diversas formas en que las personas y los bienes se desplazan a lo largo de una región. Este estudio abarcará todos los modos de viaje, incluidos el automóvil, la bicicleta, el peatón, las redes de senderos y el transporte público.

El condado de Chatham invita al público a compartir sus opiniones para comprender mejor los recursos de transporte actuales y recopilar sus ideas sobre las necesidades futuras.

Este estudio integral abarca todo el condado y sus conexiones con las áreas vecinas.

Las conclusiones de este esfuerzo ayudarán a dar forma a una iniciativa de planificación para desarrollar una visión a largo plazo del transporte multimodal en todo el condado de Chatham.
